INVISIBLE GIRLS: THE TRUTH ABOUT SEXUAL ABUSE

Dr. Patti Feuereisen (RUP '75) with Caroline Pincus

One in four girls will experience sexual abuse by the time she is 16, and 48 percent of all rapes involve a young woman under the age of 18. It's not surprising then, that in a society where sexual abuse of young women is rampant, many women never share their stories. They remain hidden and invisible.

Invisible Girls not only tells the truth about sexual abuse, it also gives advice on healing. Dr. Patti's guidance and the girls' powerful stories create an encouraging message: remarkable healing is possible if girls learn to share their stories in their teens and early twenties. Seal Press (2005), $15.95

FROM HERE: SEX, POLITICS AND POWER

Carolyn Steinhoff Smith (ED '03), editor and publisher

Women everywhere are the ones who most often heal the sick when there is no health care, feed people when politics remove subsidies, care for and teach the children when there are no schools and the old when societies neglect them.

This biannual magazine is a forum that reflects what the world looks like from here, from the vantage point of women, for all who seek to deepen their understanding and to make the planet better. From Here Press (published biannually), free

ENDING GLOBAL POVERTY: A GUIDE TO WHAT WORKS

Stephen C. Smith (RUP '76)

Two out of every three people in the world live on less than two dollars a day. This is a grim statistic, but hundreds of millions of people are breaking free from poverty with the help of grassroots programs and organizations funded by regular people here and abroad.

In Ending Global Poverty, Stephen Smith takes readers to rural areas and urban slums for a close-up view of innovative and effective programs that are making a real difference. The book also describes how companies and foreign investors could play a constructive role in addressing the problem, offering guidelines and support. Palgrave Macmillan (May 2005), $26.95

THE '06 LUNAR CALENDAR

Nancy Passmore (GGP '77)

P O R T F O L I O

WHAT IF YOUR MOTHER*Judith Arcana (GGP '78)

Poet-activist Minnie Bruce Pratt has this to say about What if Your Mother: "Judith Arcana's fierce, funny and bold poetry about mothers, abortion—and us—is a page-turner that you can't put down. It's a passionate rush of language, hope in a hard time, truth in the middle of lies. This poetry sparks and burns with the hidden language and stories of women."

Chicory Blue Press (September 2005), $15

THE ROOTS OF NATURAL MOTHERING*Janice Marsh-Prelesnik (HAS '05)

The Roots of Natural Mothering walks the reader on a journey through the sacred and holy time of the seasons of pregnancy, the journey of birth and mother-baby moon time. Poetic and introspective in nature and written from an earth-based perspective, this book beckons a woman, whether pregnant or considering pregnancy, to explore the deeper, spiritual dimension of this time of her life.

Mother Muse Publishing (2005), $18

ELDERSCENCE*Peggy Thayer (RUP '75) with Jane Thayer

Thirty-five million Americans are living beyond the age of 65, a 25-year increase in life expectancy since 1900. This longevity, once the gift of a few, has become the destiny of many.

This time of life is not just about retiring; in fact, many who retire return happily to some type of employment. It is a new stage of life filled with its own unique challenges and opportunities. Co-authors Jane and Peggy Thayer, a mother-daughter team of psychologists, have named this stage of life "elderscence."

Hamilton Books (June 2005), $25

KINGDOM COME: THE FICTION OF HOWARD FRANK MOSHER*Wayne F. Burke (RUP '79)

This work of literary criticism considers the seven "Kingdom County" novels published by popular New England writer Howard Frank Mosher. Rather than an intellectual exercise, the work is a passionate response to the material. Jay Parini, author of The Apprentice Lover, describes Burke's work: "A scrupulous book and useful guide to Mosher's imaginative kingdom."

PublishAmerica (2005), $13.95

INFINITY: THE MUSIC OF TIMOTHY J. BROWN*Timothy Brown (GV '89)

Infinity is a collection of works by composer Timothy Brown, performed by the Moravian Philharmonic Orchestra, The Denver Brass, Inc. and Quartet 18.25. Brown's compositions span a variety of styles and media, including chamber pieces and full orchestra works as well as both sacred and secular choral music.
