

Eliot D. Pratt Library Borrowing Policies

Faculty Borrowing Agreement

The Library grants the following borrowing privileges to serve the research and information needs of faculty. Faculty may borrow books and non-print materials from the in-house collection and obtain items through interlibrary loan (ILL). Reasonable limits are set to ensure availability of resources for all members of the college community. There is a limit of 30 items per faculty, which includes all loans and active requests. Within this 30 item limit, up to 5 ILLs are allowed. Borrowers are responsible for all items checked out on their account. Failure to abide by these policies may result in loss of borrowing privileges.

Loans & Renewals

Books from the In-House Collection

The loan period lasts from the date of check-out until the first day of your following program residency. Because of the generous loan period, books may not be renewed. Faculty attending Plainfield based programs must return all items to the Eliot D. Pratt Library.

Faculty attending Port Townsend or Seattle based programs may return items on loan from the in-house collection during their local residency week in WA.

Non-Print Materials from the In-House Collection

Non-print materials may be borrowed for 28 days during the semester with no renewals. The library reserves the right to recall these items (DVDs, CDs and kits) during the loan period. When mailing back, borrowers are reminded to package all materials soundly in a box to prevent damage in shipping.

Museum and Park Passes

These have a 2-day loan period with no renewal and are billed 7 days after the due date.

Textbooks

Faculty should note that the Eliot Pratt Library does not buy textbooks for the collection, and these are generally not available through interlibrary loan. If they are loaned through ILL, please note that the loan is for short-term use and cannot be used as a substitution for purchasing or renting textbooks.

Interlibrary Loan Materials (ILL)

ILL privileges are extended to faculty of Goddard College. Because of the high cost and labor-intensive nature of ILLs, we reserve the right to limit these requests. Currently, there is a 5-item limit. The loan period and any restrictions are determined by the lending library. Materials obtained through interlibrary loan cannot be renewed and must be returned to the Eliot D. Pratt Library by the due date as specified on the item. It may not be returned directly to the lending library. The library staff will handle all requests and returns. Individual borrowers should not contact the lending library directly. Failure to abide by policies and due dates will result in loss of ILL privileges.

Shipping of Material

We encourage use of local library resources and local library ILL services for materials not accessible through our library collections. This should minimize the frustrations of increasingly shortened loan periods experienced in shipping materials long distances to and from Vermont.

The college pays for shipping to faculty and students, but returns are at the expense of the borrower. We strongly suggest insurance and tracking, as well as sound packaging in mailing returns to the library.

Address Changes

Please make sure the mailing address in your library account is current when requesting materials be sent to you. Notify us immediately if it needs to be updated.

Lost, Damaged, and Overdue Materials

Reminders & Notices

Library users are reminded to access their library accounts via the LITS page <http://lits.goddard.edu/> or directly to <http://catalog.goddard.edu/> and use their Goddard log-ins to see what is checked out, due dates, and billed dates if any.

For positions terminated by the faculty or the college, faculty must return their library materials immediately. All others will receive courtesy reminders sent via Goddard email two business days after the due date. A final notice will be sent one week after the courtesy reminder.

Please note: Library notices will be sent to the user's Goddard email address. Regular overdue notices are sent as a courtesy reminder only. Failure to receive any notice does not relieve a user of the responsibility of returning an item by the date due.

Bills for Materials from the In-House Collection

For each damaged or unreturned item users will be assessed a $20 non-refundable processing fee and a $40 (or actual cost, whichever is higher) refundable replacement fee. These fees accrue when items are 28 days late (or 7 days late for museum or park passes). Credit for an unreturned museum or park pass will be given only if returned within 2 weeks from the due date and only if the library has not already bought a replacement. For all other items, no refunds will be given after one year from the due date.

Bills for Interlibrary Loan Materials

For each unreturned or damaged item obtained through ILL, users will be assessed a $20 non-refundable processing fee and a $50 (or actual cost, whichever is higher) refundable replacement fee. These fees accrue when ILL items are 28 days late. No refunds will be given after 6 months from the due date.

Your Responsibilities

In using the library, it is your responsibility to understand and comply with all Goddard College Library policies as explained in this document. As a user, you are also responsible for all materials charged to your account. Borrowing materials for someone else with your card, loaning library materials charged to your account to another, or giving library materials to someone else to return for you, does not alleviate your responsibility for such materials.

The library reserves the right to make policy changes at any time.
